Soviet Reports 28,000 Germans Trapped East Of Minsk Killed

By TOM YARBROUGH

LONDON, Sunday July 9.—(AP)—The Red army today captured Baranowicz, important fortress on the invasion route to Warsaw, fought into the streets of Wilno, and cut the Wilno-Daugavpils railway, one of the German supply backbones for defense of East Prussia and the Baltic states, Moscow announced last night.

Russian infantry, tanks and artillery broke into Wilno and in bitter fighting were inflicting "tremendous losses" on the retreating Nazis, the Soviet midnight communique supplement said. In early stages of the battle for the city Red army troops destroyed five Nazi tanks, eight gun batteries and 40 machine guns.

In another sector as German defense lines before the historic key city cracked, the supplement said, a Nazi infantry regiment was routed as it was being hurled into battle.

The slaughter of 28,000 Germans trapped east of Minsk and the capture of 115,102 in four days also was announced in the daily communique. The Russians since June 23 have killed or captured approximately 275,000 Germans on the basis of Moscow announcements.

Berlin said that Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's long-rested First Ukraine army had gone over to the offensive in the southern part of old Poland between Kowel and Lwow, thus extending the fast-moving Russian front to a distance of 500 miles between the Daugavpils (Dvinsk) area of Latvia to the Carpathian mountain approaches east of Lwow.

Unfold Russian Drives

While Moscow had not confirmed this new offensive, Berlin usually announces the unfolding of Russian drives ahead of Moscow. Zhukov's troops are on the southern flank of Marshal K. K. Rokossovsky's First White Russian front army which have taken Kowel, only 170 miles southeast of Warsaw, and which also are only 45 miles southeast of Brest Litovsk, Bug river stronghold captured by the Germans in the first few weeks of their 1941 war against Russia.

Rokossovsky's troops and those of Gen. Ivan D. Cherniakhovsky's Third White Russian front swept through approximately 740 towns and villages during the day, said the communique broadcast by Moscow and recorded by the Soviet Monitor.

The progress of Marshal Ivan Bagration's First Baltic army, hammering only a few miles from the Latvian border, was not given in the communique.

Premier Stalin announced the capture of Baranowicz, which is 120 miles northeast of Brest Litovsk and about the same distance east of Bialystok, fortresses guarding the approaches to Warsaw. Berlin reports have indicated that the Germans in the Kowel area had retreated 40 miles to the Bug river line whence they launched their 1941 stroke against Russia.

Heavily Fortified

Stalin identified Baranowicz as a "regional center of White Russia," and a "powerful fortified area" of the German defenses guarding the Bialystok and Brest Litovsk directions.

The break-through into Wilno's streets put the Russians only 100 miles from the borders of German East Prussia and about 165 miles from the Baltic. The last main German supply artery extending into the Baltic states of Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia, is only 50 miles ahead of the Russians at Kaunas.

Take Three More Generals

Three more German generals were reported captured by the Russians in the trap east of Minsk, far behind the present Russian lines. Another Nazi general, not immediately identified, was found among the dead, the Soviets said. This made a total of 19 killed or captured.

Requiem Mass At Sacred Heart Monday For Jack Snell

There will be a requiem mass at Sacred Heart church, at 7:30 o'clock Monday morning, read by the pastor, Rev. Father A. J. Brunsvick, for Sgt. Jack Snell, a member of the church, who was lost in action in May, 1943. He had been reported missing until a few days ago, when the war department notified his mother, Mrs. Charles Snell that he is officially lost, which is equal to a notice that he is dead.

State Honor for James T. Denny

James T. Denny, local assistant manager for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., has been appointed secretary and treasurer of the State Life Underwriters Association of Missouri, according to an announcement made by Wayne Clover, president of the association. His appointment was made July 1, to become effective on July 15.

Mr. Denny is past president of the Sedalia association, and now program chairman, and his activity in past years with the local association brought recognition responsible for the appointment.

Waste Paper Drive In City Next Sunday

Curbside Pickup In The Afternoon By Boy Scouts

Another wastepaper collection drive will be conducted next Sunday, July 16, by the Boy Scouts in Sedalia. This will be a curbside pickup campaign similar to the previous wastepaper drives conducted in Sedalia during the earlier part of the year. Ernest W. Baker, chairman of the local Boy Scout Council, said one improvement in method of procedure will be made in next Sunday's collection. "A Boy Scout will be assigned to each square block in the city to help residents get the paper out to the street for collection. Two Boy Scouts will be on each truck with the driver. This method will distribute the Scouts over a wider area and better facilitate the collection of wastepaper," he said.

L. W. Richardson is head of the transportation for the drive next Sunday afternoon. He is asking for volunteer trucks and drivers from all Sedalia business houses. All truck owners are asked to inform him of their willingness to cooperate.

Collection In Afternoon

Newspapers, magazines, and corrugated boxes are to be collected in the campaign beginning at 2 o'clock next Sunday afternoon. There are 700,000 items packed for shipping to the war fronts of the world. Everything from blood plasma to tanks and airplanes demand the use of paper. A hundred pounds of paper is used to send 200 blood plasma containers overseas. To ship five ambulances abroad 100 pounds of paper are used. Because of the labor shortage in lumber camps, paper manufacturers, and war industries the large amount of paper necessary to fill these demands can only come from the home. No amount of paper is too small to give. Every bit is vital material. Contribute what you have next Sunday afternoon.

Liner President Grant Is Down

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—(AP)—The war shipping administration announced today the loss of the around-the-world liner President Grant in the Pacific. No enemy action was involved.

No lives were lost and salvage work is proceeding to reclaim supplies and valuable equipment on the 13,000 ton vessel, the WSA said. The ship lies broken on a submerged reef barely ten miles from its undisclosed destination.

The merchant marine crew survivors arrived here today stepping on solid ground for the first time in over five months.

The crew fought a tropical storm in an effort to salvage the ship. From the nearest port of refuge they rushed to help and guard the helpless vessel from enemy attack. Troops and passengers aboard were transferred without mishap to other vessels.

For 100 days the crew labored to get the Grant off the reef. When they were on the verge of succeeding a sudden swell lashed the ship with a death blow.

Hold Man For Investigation

William D. Peasner, Tulsa, Okla., was picked up Friday by the local police on investigation when a "tip" was received he had eleven War Saving Bonds, belonging to Robert A. Wilkerson, of Pryor, Okla. He is being held in the city jail pending word from officers in Oklahoma.

The sheriff at Pryor, Okla., according to Sheriff C. Ross Bothwell, holds a state warrant in Oklahoma for his arrest. Authorities at Pryor indicated they would come to Sedalia to take Peasner into custody.

Sedalia police records show that he has been picked up twenty-four times prior to his pickup on Friday. Charges of investigation, mooching, on game, and hobo were on the files of the local police showing his arrest in several states other than Missouri.

Train Plunges Into Gorge

Rescuers work doggedly to free soldiers trapped in cars of a Louisville and Nashville passenger train which plunged into a 50-foot gorge of the Clear river, 11 miles south of Jellico, Tenn. Unofficial estimates reported 25 killed and 250 injured. Kitchen and baggage cars of the train, reported carrying more than 1,000 soldiers just out of basic training, were burned. (NEA Telephoto).

Operations In West Taken Over By Hitler

Revision Of Nazi Plans Are Now Predicted

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
LONDON, July 8.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler has been in urgent consultation with his top military leaders since early this week, and a Moscow report said that Hitler had taken over direction of operations in the west after the removal of veteran Field Marshal Gen. Karl Rudolf Gerd von Rundstedt.

From the German frontier came information considered trustworthy that likened the serious discussions among Hitler and his military leaders to the Kaiser's famous grand council in August, 1918, when German leaders decided the war against the Allies could not be won, but might produce an acceptable peace through prolonged, bitter fighting.

Moscow radio quoted Yakov Viktorov, correspondent of the newspaper Pravda, as saying that Hitler himself had taken over the west, naming Field Marshal Gen. Guenther Von Kluge as the front man for the eclipsed Von Rundstedt.

"This is in itself an admission of failure," Viktorov added.

Another Moscow broadcast quoted a Tass dispatch as saying that Von Rundstedt had been placed under house arrest.

Dilemma On Manpower

Information filtering out of Germany said the major point of controversy among German commanders in the east, west and south concerned their varying manpower requirements, at the military conference.

A complete revision of defense plans may be made before the end of the month, this information said.

One important point brought up was whether it would be wiser to withdraw German troops from Norway and the Balkans, thereby strengthening the core of resistance around Germany itself and avoiding the risk of having those idle occupation troops cut off from the homeland.

Even taking into consideration the fact that some of the reports coming out of Germany may be Nazi "plants" aimed at creating over-confidence in Allied countries, this appeared to be a trustworthy review of developments:

1. While no final decision apparently has been made, the Germans probably will throw more reserves into the Normandy front in France in an effort to inflict the heaviest possible losses on the Allied troops there.

2. Von Rundstedt stepped out of the picture as the "first enemy man" in the invasion for refusing to commit larger forces in Normandy. He had been reported holding off for fear of new Allied landings elsewhere along the coast.

3. The need of maintaining crack divisions in the west will make it extremely difficult to funnel good troops into the eastern area, but the Germans hope to make a stand by the end of the month, probably behind the Wista (Vistula) river in Poland.

4. Civilians and families of German civil servants voluntarily have been evacuating Poland and East Prussia during the past 10 days. Huge refugee camps in eastern and southern Germany have been ordered to house them.

5. Commanders on the Russian front are worried by steady Nazi withdrawals in Italy because of the danger to their holdings in the Balkans.

6. The death of Gen. Eduard Dietl, German commander in Finland, probably was another signpost of difficulties inside the Reich high command.

Sedalian's Son Reported Missing

William A. "Billie" Smith, son of P. A. Smith of Syracuse and Mrs. Ida Smith of Sedalia, has been reported missing in action over France since June 6, the opening day of the invasion.

Smith, born and reared near Syracuse, attended public school and high school in that community. He entered the armed forces February 15, 1942, in Rock Island, Ill., and had been overseas since December, 1943. He was a member of the army combat engineers.

In 1942 he was married to Miss Ruth Wilson of St. Louis, who, upon receiving the message, notified his father.

Raid Robot Storage Cave

Allied Planes In Heavy Attacks From The Air

By HOWARD COWAN

LONDON, July 8.—(AP)—Every type of aircraft at the command of the Allies was hurled at the Nazi war machine in the west today in an awesome display of supremacy in the skies, striking heavy twin blows at the robot bomb ramps and storage places, and hitting savagely in support of Gen. Montgomery's troops who trawled over the rubble-strewn approaches to Caen in Normandy.

The great blows at the robot bombs coincided with the longest respite in southern England from the eerie weapons since those attacks began, but after nightfall they came winging over again. But there was no doubt the raids had been effective.

They were opened by an earthquake attack by Lancasters which dropped six-ton bombs on great limestone caves at St. Leu-D'Esserent, 30 miles north of Caen, in her collapsing one of the caverns which served as a robot bomb supply depot. This was followed later by assaults on launching ramps by American heavy bombers.

Meanwhile British and American bombers and fighter-bombers rained equally punishing loads of explosive on German-held Caen in a display whose deafening din awed even the front line troops crouched before the city.

Miss Slusher First To Solo At Airport Flying School

With foreboding, to be sure, but calmly self-confident, Miss Virginia Lee Slusher, 923 South Barrett avenue, in the early morning coolness of Saturday successfully became a part of Sedalia's history—she made her first solo flight and became the first pupil of Jack Funk's flying school to solo on Sedalia's Municipal airport.

Up at 5:30, she went to the air field with her instructor who went up with her to shoot a couple of landings and then, with last-minute instructions, Mr. Funk left her in the cockpit of the blue 50 h. p. Porterfield trainer and bid her fly with her own wings.

At 7 o'clock she made the take-off, circled the field at about 600 to 700 feet and landed, remembering of course with no few misgivings the ever-present cautions impressed upon her subconscious mind by her teacher, "Watch your air speed," "Don't forget to clear your motor," "Keep the stick back after you hit the ground," and "Be quick on the rudder!"

Circles Flying Field

In she taxied, off she went again, and again she landed. The third and last time she took off she circled the field twice before coming in.

Nurse Home From Overseas

Lieut. Hall In Hospital In Italy When It Was Bombed

Lieutenant Bernadine Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hall, 1911 South Quincy avenue, who has been active service in Italy and England, has arrived home for a few weeks rest, after receiving a medical discharge from the United States Army Nurses Corps. Lieutenant Hall arrived back in this country on Wednesday, June 28th after eight and a half months overseas service.

Lieutenant Hall entered the service January 13, 1943 and her first station was at Camp Crowder, Mo. She was there until May of 1943 when sent to Camp Kilmer, for transport duty, being assigned to a hospital ship returning wounded back to this country. She was in transport duty for four months after which she went overseas.

In Italy she was in field hospital work and was in the 32nd Field Hospital when it was bombed and five nurses lost their lives. Lieutenant Hall told of the hospital being strafed by the Germans one day and the next the hospital was bombed.

Rushed To Fox Hole

Asked if she saw much action she told of the hospital bombing, saying "Many times I hit for a fox hole and found someone else there, but either crowded in or located another in short time."

After service in Italy she was sent to a station hospital in England where she was under assignment for several months. In her tour of duty on foreign soil she never ran into anyone from Sedalia.

Lieutenant Hall received her nurses training at Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa., and is a former nurse at the Bothwell hospital in Sedalia.

She has three brothers now in service, Sergeant Royce Hall, with a tank destroying outfit somewhere in the European theater; Private Lewis Hall, recently at Camp Hood replacement center in Maryland, and probably overseas at the present time; and Private Earl Hall, in New Caledonia.

Army officials tonight released a list of 25 men killed and 89 injured, one critically, in a troop train wreck Thursday night near here.

The dead included: Eugene L. Hilton, Monett, Mo.

Imprisoned Four Days Under Billet

LONDON, July 8.—(AP)—Buried four days under the debris of a billet wrecked by a flying bomb, Sgt. Emory Barefoot, 24, of Vienna Ga., was rescued without suffering any serious effects from his ordeal, it was disclosed today.

He lay imprisoned without food for 85 hours, protected by beams which collapsed into a tent-like position over him and held back the great weight of the wreckage. His two companions were killed in the blast.

First Time Up Two Weeks Ago

It was only two weeks ago today, June 25, that Miss Slusher, 25-year-old employee of the Department of Agriculture, 410 1/2 South Ohio avenue, went up for the first time to start instructions under Mr. Funk—his only female student. She doesn't mind admitting that she became "pretty sick" on that first trip, but soon she had collected herself and now has to her credit 11 hours of the 50-hour requirement.

Blow Heaviest In Invasion At Caen

Japs Leave 1,500 Dead On Battlefield

Fierce Counter Thrust On Saipan Is Broken Up

By CHARLES H. McMURTRY
U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, July 8.—(AP)—An attack by thousands of desperate Japanese, supported by planes and artillery, pushed American lines on Saipan Island back as much as 2,000 yards before it was broken up, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz reported today.

The enemy left an estimated 1,500 dead on the battlefield. It was the fiercest counterattack of the central and western Pacific war.

Several thousand Japanese began the assault before dawn Thursday on the western flank. They drove to the outskirts of Tanapag down before they were halted, shortly before noon, and the Americans forced them into slow retreat.

"The fighting was very severe and numerous casualties were incurred," Nimitz said, but he made no estimate of American dead and wounded.

Silence Enemy Guns

Simultaneously, small groups of Japanese planes attacked U. S. positions and shipping, while enemy shore batteries on nearby Tinian Island poured fire on American-held Iself field. Destroyers and American artillery silenced the guns on Tinian.

Nimitz said no ships were damaged by the Japanese planes. He made no report on damage to American positions on the southern end of the island.

The American right flank continued its methodical advance throughout the counterattack. It was about a mile from Marpi airfield on the northern tip of the island.

About 10,500 Japanese, or half the estimated original garrison, have been killed. The rest are penned on the northern tip.

The counterattack came a day before B-29s smashed at the home-land of Nippon climaxing a heart-breaking week for Tokyo.

Destroy 105 "Nip" Planes

The toll of Japanese air craft during the July 2-3 American strikes at three islands in the Onin and volcano groups stood today at 105 definitely destroyed and 136 others damaged or probably destroyed.

A navy supplementary communique boosted the total by reporting 32 Japanese planes were smashed and 96 damaged on the ground during the July 3 thrust at Chichi Jima and Haha Jima in the Conins.

Wreck Death Toll Reaches 33

JELLICO, Tenn., July 8.—(AP)—The death toll from the plunge of a troop train into a Clear river gorge Thursday night mounted to at least 33 tonight as workmen laboriously cleared the wreckage.

The army announced that the bodies of 25 soldiers had been found and Police Chief Hubert Perkins said that six other bodies were recovered during the afternoon. The fireman and the engineer of the train also perished.

As two giant cranes swung their cables into the rocky gorge and tugged at the last demolished car, workers said they believed at least two more bodies would be found.

Army officials tonight released a list of 25 men killed and 89 injured, one critically, in a troop train wreck Thursday night near here.

The dead included: Eugene L. Hilton, Monett, Mo.

Saturday The Hottest Of Year

Saturday was the "hottest day yet" in 1944 for Sedalians, made to feel even hotter than thermometers showed by the intensity of the relative humidity.

Unofficial reports were that the temperature had risen to 96 degrees Fahrenheit during the afternoon. Other reports were as high as 98 degrees.

The State Fair Floral Co. official thermometer read 94 at six p. m., it was reported.

Blood Bank Of Red Cross To Open Monday

Many More To Donate Blood To Save Lives Desired

Pettis County's Blood Bank opens Monday morning. To date there have not been as many appointments as there should have been for Sedalia and Pettis county, and unless many more register to give a pint of blood, the county will fail to reach the quota set for it. Registrants will receive calls at phone number 130, for appointments later in the week.

The blood taken is used for sick and wounded men and women in the armed forces, and many lives have been saved because someone at home was willing to give their blood, with no ill results to themselves.

How Blood Goes To War

Of the manner in which Your Blood Goes to War, the Red Cross states:

Donors make appointments in advance by calling the Red Cross. At the appointed hour they visit the Blood Donor Center, where they soon feel perfectly at home. First they sign a card, give name, address, and other information.

Doctors and nurses check temperature, pulse, hemoglobin, blood pressure, ask a few simple health questions.

Donating a pint of blood is painless, has no harmful after-effects. A drop of local anesthetic is administered, a needle skillfully inserted into the vein. Donor rests for ten minutes afterward.

Following the donation, light refreshments are served and a blood donor emblem awarded. The donor then resumes his or her normal activities. The whole procedure takes approximately 45 minutes. Many donors return as often as regulations permit, frequently bring others with them.

The blood is shipped daily in heavy, refrigerated containers to laboratories that process it into dried plasma for the Army and Navy. It must reach laboratory within approximately 24 hours.

Bottles are placed in centrifuge, whirled 2500 r. p. m. for one hour. Plasma rises to top like cream on milk.

Clear plasma is drawn off and pooled, red and white corpuscles discarded. Numerous tests are given for purity.

Frozen By Chemicals

Plasma is returned to individual bottles, frozen by rotation in bath of chemicals and dry ice.

Vacuum tanks withdraw moisture from frozen plasma, leave light straw-colored powder.

Today, plasma voluntarily donated through the Red Cross is saving the lives of thousands of wounded soldiers and sailors.

The dried plasma is quickly dissolved in distilled water for the emergency transfusion. Plasma does not require typing or refrigeration, keeps for years.

Plasma is with our fighting men everywhere, but thousands of additional donors are needed each week.

U. S. Troops Jeopardize Nazi Positions At West End Of Front

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, July 8.—(AP)—British Second army troops fought their way into the northeast outskirts of Caen tonight after sweeping forward on a seven-mile front and capturing at least nine towns.

A front dispatch from Associated Press Correspondent Roger D. Greene said that some German vehicles already have been spotted pulling out of the doomed Orne river city.

Authie, on the west flank of the ever-narrowing German defense arc, fell to Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's troops and on the east they have moved beyond Herouville and are well established atop hill 64 at the road fork between Caen and Epron.

The British thrust at Caen, the German hinge in eastern Normandy, was the heaviest blow of the invasion.

Crossroads Comment

by G.H.S.

They Keep Their Chins Up—

Civilians distressed over excruciating sacrifices they are compelled to make during wartime, must be reminded again and again of the contributions made by our armed forces.

Soldiers and sailors dodging bombs and bullets do less complaining than folks back home in business and in factories. Civilians have a peculiar outlook on life in sharp contrast to that of the man doing the fighting.

They might meditate over the mental outlook of a glider pilot shortly after returning to England from his D-day experience landing troops in France:

"Life in the army these last two years has enriched me morally, mentally and physically. It has been a rest cure and a vacation in some ways. My wildest dreams of excitement and glorious adventure have been realized. How would you like to flit from one continent to another? Oh, well, some people get fun out of the tragic. It all depends on the viewpoint. I shaved off a seventeen-day old beard last night for our squadron party."

This young man, well on his way to becoming a successful newspaper man, gave up his post as a business manager to become a glider pilot. War's interlude has not dampened his ardor. He intends to pick up where he left off when peace comes.

Wanted: Long-Pole Fly Swatter—

We see by the papers that several experienced army flyers have been punished by court-martial, fined a few thousand dollars and denied their promotion status for a year. They had become momentarily embued with over-enthusiasm and flew too low over residential and business houses.

Personally tree-top flyers never bothered me. I like to see planes zoom and hear their roar as they clip the tree tops. But I might have a different feeling about the matter if one of them should crash into my house and kill members of the family. I would probably lose my temper if a low-flying plane crashed into my chicken pen or victory garden even though the beets and beans are sickly looking from sun stroke.

Just the same there are fellow citizens who really become jittery when big planes fly low over town. Since establishment of the new Municipal Airport west of town, midget planes are active in the air hereabouts. There will be more of them as students begin flying lessons.

So before the practice becomes chronic, a word of caution should be sounded against making the air above Sedalia a training area for winged neophytes.

Citizens on the ground will feel much more comfortable if the midget planes fly a bit higher and more around the outskirts than directly over the business and residential sections.

A tragic accident now would certainly put a damper on the trainee program, and development of the municipal field.

Low flying over town should be discouraged.

About Hauling Your Own Garbage—

A word spoken in jest sometimes has the germ of a constructive idea.

Sedalia has a garbage collection problem. The topic became the subject of conversation with a civic-minded citizen. He was disturbed over the methods some Sedalians use in disposing of garbage and tin cans. He observed that a country road had been serviced and tidied up for traffic; next day along the road shoulder was a sack of tin cans and garbage scattered about, dumped there by someone from town out for a ride. This is not an unusual practice among late evening drivers.

A bit of jesting followed, one quip being that Sedalia should establish a "drive-in" garbage dump.

Well, now, why not? If a new location for a dump is ever found could not a road entry and exit be made so that motorists might drive right through the place, throw off a sack of cans or garbage and keep right on going. A custodian could take care of the material so it would not collect or scatter on the road. A receiving station might be established at the entrance, making it unnecessary for those with sensitive nostrils to drive through.

The idea might sound fantastic but certainly some such plan is more meritorious than the present practice of carting refuse out in the country and scattering it along the roads.

The idea of a drive-in garbage dump might be modified or enlarged upon to include a bit of landscaping, thus catering to those aesthetically-minded.

But—no more commissions, no more bureaus to toy with this proposal. Let the sewer and sanitation committee already established add this problem to their curriculum.

The C. I. O. Tags McKittick—

You can never foretell the trend of politics.

A year ago among Democrats there was much outspoken criticism of Senator Bennett Clark and voluble doubt about his chances for renomination.

Subsequently Roy McKittick entered the senatorial lists against Senator Clark. Their campaign waxed hot. The Republicans, too, have their own candidate-burdened primary campaign underway.

Then out of a clear sky the C.I.O. Political Action committee announces that among all the candidates—Democrat or Republican—they bestow their blessing on only one—Roy McKittick. No other Democrat, no other Republican, in their mind, is sufficiently qualified to serve during the next six years as Missouri's United States Senator.

Does the C.I.O. choose McKittick because of special interest it has in his election? Does the C.I.O. expect McKittick to represent the C.I.O. in Congress, or to represent the people of Missouri?

Mr. McKittick may not have asked to be tagged by the C.I.O. If not he is the victim of a circumstance that perhaps will do him more harm than good in the vote-getting next month.

The beneficiary of this unexpected trend will likely be Senator Clark in the primary; and, if not, then it will be the Republican candidate in the general election.

Father Time Creeps Up On New Deal—

Almost any New Dealer will tell you the reason Wendell Willkie washed up as a presidential winner was because he talked too much.

But scarcely had the Republicans launched the Dewey-Bricker flying fortress than New Deal spokesmen turned loose a barrage of verbal flak, the repercussions of which sound very much like the dud variety.

Their initial hand grenade throwing is done with a stance like that of a woman tossing a baseball for the first time.

The new Dealers plainly indicate also they have acquired the familiar flair of a certain patronizing attitude, an irritability complex, and that tired, run-down feeling. Old Father time has pulled them along the path of years until they have joined the group they once scorned as "nine old men" lacking youthful vitality to cope with national affairs.

The once young men who berated the old codgers for lack of vision, themselves have become old. Now they have changed their tune and offer a plea for perpetuity in office on the basis of their tried and true experience; as though their predecessors didn't have qualifications when they kicked them around.

Since the early thesis of the New Deal was predicated on the efficiency of youth, it goes without saying that if this factor was a potent requirement yesterday, it must be just as efficacious today.

Horse-Changing Slogan May Backfire—

One of the current political mysteries is what attitude President Roosevelt will take on the vice-presidential question at the Democratic national convention. Will he again demand Henry Wallace be his running mate, or will he leave the matter wide-open, wash his hands of the matter and allow Henry to trod the path to a political Golgotha?

Roosevelt himself is expected to be the New Deal presidential candidate. His supporters are out with a campaign slogan: "Don't change horses in the middle of the stream." But this may back-fire.

If Mr. Roosevelt decides to abandon Vice-President Wallace he becomes vulnerable to the charge of changing horses in the middle of the stream. Thus the well-established horse-changing slogan as it applies to FDR will certainly lose its effectiveness.

On the other hand if Mr. Roosevelt doesn't change vice-presidential horses he will certainly run into southern trouble because Wallace isn't too well liked.

The New Dealers might just as well begin now to soft-pedal that horse-changing slogan. It would be terrifically ludicrous if they came out of the convention shouting:

"A horse, a horse, our kingdom for a horse."

A Directive for Death

One of the oddities of the most tragic circus fire in history at Hartford, Conn., was an announcement by the war manpower area director that employment ceilings for all persons needed as undertakers' helpers, cemetery workers and various relief agencies had been lifted.

This is a striking example of just how tightly bound civilians are by government controls. Death itself cannot function without a bureaucratic directive.

Blood Bank Here Again—

Once again Sedalia and Pettis county is called upon to give to the blood bank.

This week citizens will voluntarily contribute again as they have so generously on other occasions, giving their blood for use in saving the lives of fighting men.

This endeavor has become one of the most outstanding performances of our citizens in wartime. Those who are qualified to give their blood, those who have done so, and those who intend to do so this week have and will establish a proud record comparable if not of equal importance to that of buying bonds.

Americans no doubt had the last laugh on the Japanese when the U. S. flyers dropped bombs Fourth of July on one of the Bonin islands—Haha Jima by name.

The Japanese naming their islands must have had a foreboding centuries ahead of time. The term "Bonin" is a corruption of the Japanese "Munin To," meaning "empty of men" which no doubt the islands will be when the American flyers are through with them. Odd, too, is that the island name beginning in corruption will likely end that way.

In the Netherlands Spice Islands, nutmegs are tested by bouncing them, and wormy ones don't bounce. Now if we could just apply that test to the multitude of candidates for public office, it would relieve the voters of much indecision when casting ballots in the August primary.

An alligator can crush almost anything with its powerful jaws, yet, once closed, a man can hold them shut with one hand. Something man can't do with one hand is keep closed the wagging jaws of a gossip woman.

In England, it has been found that chickens often lay soft-shelled eggs for a few days after bombing raids. Which still doesn't explain why, in this peaceful country, radio commentators continue to lay eggs of the soft-shelled variety.

England's prime minister, Winston Churchill, has been known to dictate letters while taking a bath. That's no novelty at all, remarks a Sedalia stenog, who says she gets her bath taking dictation from a boss who sputters.

Giraffes first were introduced into Europe about 45 B. C. The twentieth century will probably be noted for the introduction into Europe of a new species of the snake family—a poisonous Nazi reptile.

Merry-go-round

. . . by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, July 8—Inside the Cabinet, they are facetiously saying that, for FDR, July is "Jesse Jones Month." Exactly one year ago, the president was confronted with an open, virulent row between his vice-president and his secretary of commerce which he solved in favor of Jones.

Today he has a southern revolt on his hands which he has told insiders he blames partly on Jesse Jones. So the question is: What he is going to do about it?

If the president lets a member of his own cabinet get away with what looks like open rebellion, it is a tip-off to other rebels, and revolt spreads. Already the unhappy whisper is going around that "Jesse has something on the president" and that the president doesn't dare fire him.

The whisperers—and some aren't too far from the White House—point out that Jesse got away with the delays on synthetic rubber which set back the entire nation, and that he even had the nerve to make a public statement shifting the blame to the president. They also point out that the Senate Banking and Currency committee, which privately went into the Jones-Wallace dispute over the Board of Economic Warfare, sided with Wallace and were shocked over some of Jones' delays, especially on quinine.

They also point out that, privately, the president obviously doesn't like him, and yet, despite Jones' 70 years and the effective manner in which Governor Dewey has ridiculed Roosevelt's "tired old men," Roosevelt keeps him in the Cabinet.

Jones' Power on Capitol Hill

The answer probably is that Jones has more power on Capitol Hill than any other Cabinet member—especially among southern recalcitrants with whom the president needs to get along. Jones has loaned money to the constituents of more congressmen than anyone in history. Just as the one banker in any small town is a potent person, so Jesse Jones, backed by RFC millions, is all-powerful in the little group of men and politicians who control legislation.

For instance, Jesse recently was under fire from Senator Clyde Reed, Republican of Kansas, in regard to claims that he was controlling the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad by not permitting one group of stockholders to pay up their RFC loan and thus get free of Jones' domination. The Senate probe of the situation was squashed largely by Senator Ed Johnson, Democrat of Colorado, who quite frequently said:

"Jesse Jones is the only man who does any favors for us up here on the Hill, and when he wants a favor, I'm going to reciprocate."

All of this came to a show-down recently when Jones' close friend and associate, Will Clayton, sent to the White House his resignation as Surplus Property Administrator. Clayton, also from Texas, and long-time assistant secretary of commerce under Jones, had been accused of helping to inspire the Texas anti-Roosevelt revolt through his cotton firm, Anderson, Clayton & Co.

In resigning, Clayton not only said that he did not know anything about the Texas rebellion, but went further and stated that he considered "un-American" the idea of depriving the people of their vote through reversing their wishes in the Electoral College.

The White House, believing in Clayton's sincerity, did not accept his resignation.

The incident was embarrassing to Jones, however, because (1) he did not submit his resignation, and (2) he did not denounce the Texas revolt.

Refuses To Disavow Revolt

Jones did go to the White House and tell the president that he had known nothing about the Texas matter, but the president later implied to friends that he didn't believe him, adding that George

Butler, Jones' nephew, who is chairman of the Texas Democratic Executive committee and led the revolt, was attorney for many Jones projects and worked hand in glove with his uncle.

At the time Clayton resigned, Jones had been confined to his bed with an infected kidney. However, a high-up member of the Roosevelt Administration, who lives in the same hotel with Jones, was detailed to go to see him. The emissary comes from the south, is personally fond of Jones and backed him in last July's show-down with Henry Wallace.

He put up to Jones in substance the following proposition: "While it is conceivable that you didn't know in advance about the Texas anti-Roosevelt revolt, now that you do know about it, will you disavow it? Will you make the same statement Will Clayton made—that it is un-American to put on the ticket electors pledged to disregard the wishes of a majority of the people of their state? Finally, will you urge your friends in Texas to drop their revolt?"

It was also believed that, with Jones dominating three radio stations and two newspapers in Houston, the county which led the revolt, he could do a lot to put it in reverse.

However, Jones refused. He said he didn't want to meddle in the Texas political situation. He repeated that he hadn't known anything about it in advance and didn't want to get mixed up in it now.

Vice-Presidential Ambitions?

Of course, Jesse may change his mind. But as a result of this and other moves by the Secretary of Commerce, several around the White House are wondering whether Jones is playing a long shot to be the vice-presidential nominee. They have not forgotten the balloons he had hidden in the Democratic convention hall in Houston during the Al Smith nomination in 1928. Marked "Jesse Jones for President," they caused smiles by breaking loose and floating over the crowd prematurely.

Nor have they forgotten Jesse's secret moves to be the vice-presidential nominee instead of Wallace at Chicago in 1940.

And as he is strong with the conservative and southern wing of the party, they are convinced that, if the coming convention is deadlocked over Wallace, Jesse figures the whole southern revolt could be compromised by putting him up as Roosevelt's running mate.

It sounds like a long shot. But Jesse has played the long shots ever since he was an over-invested real estate operator during the depression, desperate to become Herbert Hoover's RFC director. And the long shots have pulled him through.

God's Front Porch

A Novel By KETTI FRINGS

To Those Who Came In Late: This is the story of what happened to Pinky Harrison after he was killed in a foxhole. The scene is Heavenly Bend Junction, half-way point between the Earth and Big Valley. Travelers stay here until they stop looking back to Earth.

XVIII

THE day was interminable for Pinky. It worried the old man to watch him worry. A dozen times that day he tried to drop encouraging little hints to Pinky:

First, the fact that Timothy had been down there before. "Don't you remember, Pinky, when your mother was sick? I sent him that time." Pinky only nodded. And then for a while the old man tried just talking about Timothy—re-marking how, for all his faults, Timothy was one of the finest characters in this world. He reminded Pinky of how, just before Timothy died, he got up out of his death bed, yelled for a hammer and nails, and nailed that banging shutter there at the bedroom window. Nailed it fast and then went back to bed and died. "Energetic to the last."

"Oh, he's energetic enough," Pinky admitted, then with sudden intense feeling: "Look, you don't have to try to sell him to me. I've loved him all my life. Only, I just happen to know how he is about errands."

EVENING was worse. God made a great effort at dinner. Julie said, afterwards, that she'd never seen him so nice and putting himself out so much, to make things so pleasant. But that was because Rion was there—and because Emily was watching Rion's face so eagerly and was so pleased when God talked to him just like anybody, like he was one of theirs.

But afterwards, when Emily and Rion had found their own corner of the porch, the old man just sort of hung around like one lost. Then, finally, muttering something about "going out to turn up the stars a little brighter—have a messenger out, you know," he started down the steps.

"Want to come, Pinky?"

"If you don't mind."

PINKY sat at the base of the large rock that was known as Lookout Point, waiting for God to come down. The old man had gone up to the top of the rock a few minutes before with his starlighter. Maybe it was a few minutes. Maybe it was hours. All time was like that to Pinky. But now he heard him climbing down.

"My, that was a job." God was panting a little. "Funny thing happened, too. One little star . . . I was raising all hell with it . . . couldn't get it to brighten a bit. Know what, son?" The old man sat down beside him, shook his head, chuckled faintly. "It wasn't a star at all . . . it was the tail-light of an airplane!"

Pinky shook his head. "Excuse me, Father, for changing the subject, but—" "You're not changing any subject. It's on my mind too, Pinky."

"Will Timothy come by this way?" "Should."

"But look—" Pinky's gray eyes were filled with tenderness. "You must know what happened! Why don't you tell me?"

"Because I don't know, Pinky. I've been afraid to look."

They sat in silence for a while. Then suddenly: "Father, why don't you destroy all that mess down there?"

"That's what they don't understand. I'm not a destructive person, Pinky. I've tried. I just can't."

"But if you just got angry a little."

"Oh, I've been angry—" and the old man told him about all the times that he'd brought storms and floods, but how it hadn't done any good. "They just don't listen to that anymore."

"Maybe a miracle?"

"There's even less hope for that. Don't you realize, Pinky, now they've out-miracled me for the last half century?" Never had Pinky felt so sorry for him as he did now, and yet the old man wasn't really bitter about it. He told Pinky of how he had once opened the sea, and of how man now drew music and words right out of the air. He mentioned the visions that he'd shown them down through the years . . . and yet what were visions compared to the miracle of seeing something in a tiny box that was happening hundreds of miles away?

Faintly, in the distance, they heard the weird ghostly shriek of air-raids sirens.

"Lights going off again all over the world." God shook his head, then looked up at the sky, and a glow of pride came into his eyes and into his voice: "They'll never put my stars out though!"

PINKY had fallen asleep. But there were voices somewhere now, and he struggled to wake. Timothy's voice and the old man's. He forced his eyes open, saw the two of them standing in front of him—not looking at him though, but bending over a tiny bundle. And there was a voice from the bundle too . . . the small, un-crying voice of a baby.

Pinky sprang up, in wild terror. "You got there too late!" Timothy turned to face him, and there were tears in his eyes. "Don't you want to look at her, Pinky? She's so darlin'." Sobbing, Pinky turned and fled down the narrow path which led back to the town.

another Texas revolt.

Under the leadership of Reynolds, the Virginia "Committee of 100" has grown in influence. The committee has not attacked Senator Byrd and does not propose to do so, but its members are vigorously for Roosevelt and a progressive Democratic party.

Reynolds operates five aluminum plants in Richmond and recently has been receiving threats that his business might suffer. One Richmond city official telephoned him recently, warning that his political activities in favor of Roosevelt, and indirectly interpreted as against Byrd, might hurt his company. Reynolds also was warned that he might need political favors in the future and would not get them.

Senator Glass' support for Roosevelt in recent months has not been a surprise to his close friends. Though not generally known, he has tangled with his Virginia colleague, Senator Byrd, privately on many occasions, and has frowned on Byrd's presidential ambitions. Some time ago, Glass warned the junior senator to stick to his knitting.

"You'd better concentrate on being Senator from Virginia," Glass is reported to have warned, "and keep your fingers out of other things."

received the leader of the French National Committee in his room at the army's Walter Reed hospital. Pershing rose despite his illness to greet De Gaulle. They exchanged views on the war and when Pershing was asked whether he believed "we are nearing the end of the world conflict," he replied, "I do."

Pershing said that if he had gone on to Berlin in the last war perhaps we wouldn't be in the fight now. General De Gaulle replied vigorously, "At least this time we'll go through."

Dies In A Jump From A Bomber

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., July 8—(AP)—Staff Sgt. Chester M. Vorbeck of Ventura, Calif., 36, veteran of overseas action in World War two, was killed Friday, Col. William B. Offutt, Kirtland field commandant, announced, when he jumped from a B-24 bomber which had developed engine trouble and was preparing to make a forced landing near here.

Two Chinese student pilots, only other men aboard, rode the craft in for a crash landing and escaped uninjured although the bomber burned.

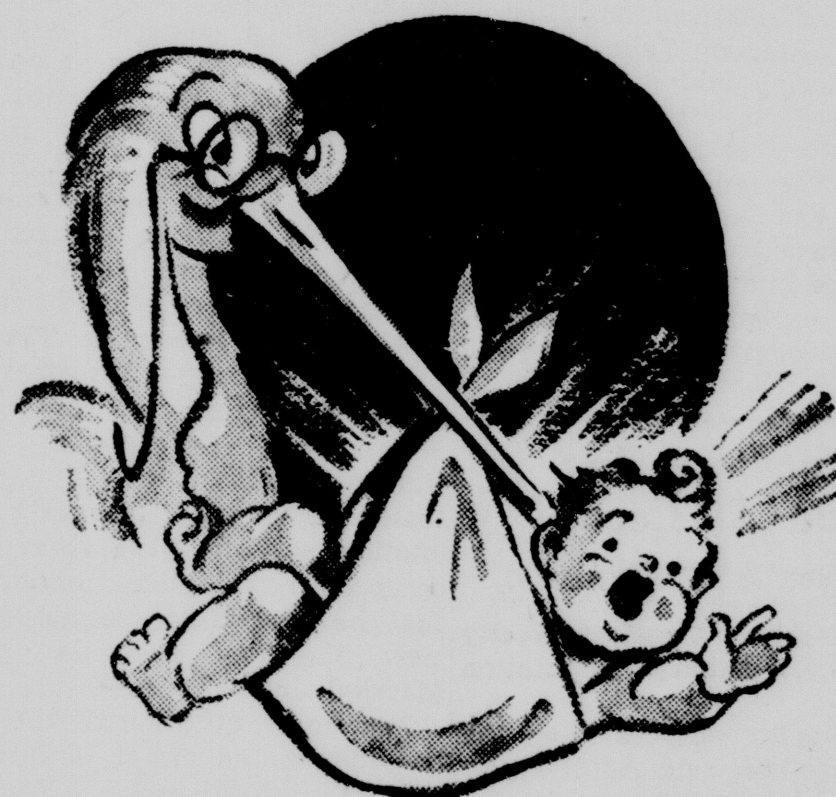

Sgt. Vorbeck, native of Cape Girardeau, Mo., served five months in the European theater and once was listed as missing in action over enemy territory. However, the army said, he eluded the enemy and made his way back to his home base in Britain.

Dietl carried an important document concerning German military plans and was en route to see Hitler when his plane crashed in Austria. This story is that from the wreckage of the plane all of Dietl's papers except these plans were found. The crash itself was said to have been due to sabotage by an anti-army clique or by enemies within the army trying to learn contents of the documents. German propaganda during the day struck note to desperation in appealing for an all-out German war effort. Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels in Des Reich said that "the greatest political error our adversaries committed in this war was imposing a war of life and death on the Reich."

This was clear reference to the Allied "unconditional surrender" goal. Goebbels in an apparent reference to a future World War also commented: "We know full well there is no possibility for us to renew this conflict ten, twenty, or fifty years from now if we prove incapable of resisting now." Berlin's Boersen-Zeitung in a sober editorial said: "The greatest combined attack in the history of the world faces Germany. The enemy's armament industry has achieved amazing results. Experiences of the last four weeks in Normandy have to a certain extent fully confirmed Allied statements which preceded the invasion."

marks the ancient cathedral city which once boasted a population of 54,000. (Trustworthy advices from the German frontier said Adolf Hitler had been in urgent consultation with his top army leaders most of the week and that one point of discussion was the possibility of a withdrawal from Norway and the Balkans to provide troops to meet the demands of a three-front war.

Supreme headquarters announced that the French guerrillas, in addition to tying up many German units in southern France, had extended their attacks to points only 20 miles behind the Normandy front, posting snipers along the roads and disrupting enemy transport.

The Caen offensive began at 4:20 a. m. (10:20 p. m. Friday, eastern war time) after the RAF unloaded 2,300 tons of bombs on the German positions and artillery had blasted away for 50 minutes. By 8 p. m., Gruchy, Buron, and Herouville, all from two to three miles in an arching line from northwest to northeast of Caen, were in the hands of British Tommies who came in with flame-throwers and grenades and cleaned out pillboxes missed by the barrage and the bombers and bygone Germans from their trenches.

De Gaulle And FDR End Talks

May Be Stepping Stone For Three-Way Accord

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON, July 8.—(P)—General Charles De Gaulle and President Roosevelt concluded their talks on French-American relations today in a conference understood to have been marked by cordiality and friendly understanding.

The British have been kept informed of the conversations as they progressed, it was reported in diplomatic quarters. The ultimate result of the meetings, therefore, may be a three-way accord among the United States, Britain and the French committee of National Liberation on specific problems involved in civil rule for Liberated areas of France.

Despite the fact that these problems of finance, maintenance of order, administration of justice, and the like have been anticipated for months, this is the first time that a general, workable plan has seemed close at hand.

The British and French last week finished drafting a master formula. The talks of Mr. Roosevelt and General De Gaulle are understood to have cleared the way for American action on it, possibly with some modification.

Fotich Not Recognize Tito

While harmony thus prevailed in one section of diplomatic Washington, Ambassador Constantine Fotich of Yugoslavia tossed a verbal firecracker into another section. At a noon press conference Fotich announced that he would not recognize the new Yugoslav guerrilla leader, Marshal Josip Broz (Tito).

Newsmen questioned the ambassador in an effort to find out whether multi-racial Yugoslav was splitting apart over the Tito rivalry with the Serbian Yugoslav General Draja Mihailovic. Fotich, a Serb, declared that the new government does not represent the Serbs and that they are entitled to consider that it is against them.

The government is headed by Doctor Ivan Subasic. Its formation was ordered by King Peter in an effort to obtain unity of all factions. Fotich, while declining to recognize the government, likewise declined to say he was resigning even though Subasic had said three weeks ago that Fotich was through. The ambassador, declaring the next move was up to Subasic, made it clear that his own loyalties were to the king and to the Serbian "national committee" which could be the germ of a second Yugoslav government probably also loyal to the king.

General De Gaulle completed his talks with the President at a White House conference lasting an hour and fifteen minutes. This evening there was a reception at French delegation headquarters here. Tomorrow's schedule is devoted to meetings with French and American officials and on Monday after a morning press conference, the general will leave by plane for New York City.

bombs hurled at the robot storage caverns on the Oise river ripped through the earth and inside a cave.

"This produced a great subsidence of earth, 540 by 300 feet in area, and masses of rock and soil must have collapsed into the cave below," said the air ministry, raising a possibility that hundreds of the death-dealing robots along with Nazi personnel were buried under tons of earth.

Aerial reconnaissance later in the day showed the earth had collapsed around both entrances, and there were fresh cave-ins on top of the bomb storehouse.

It was viewed as likely that anyone in the vicinity must have taken cover in that natural air raid shelter as the heavy Lancasters strewed their six-ton bombs over the roads and railways leading to the cave and the landing stage at the river's edge, 60 feet below.

Engagement Of Elliott Denied

LONDON, July 8.—(P)—The reported engagement of twice-divorced Col. Elliott Roosevelt and WAC Capt. Ruth Briggs was denied here today by the President's son and Capt. Briggs.

Col. Roosevelt, through an army associate, denied he was engaged to Capt. Briggs or that he was planning to become engaged to her or to anyone else. Capt. Briggs later joined in the denial, saying "we are just good friends."

The army associate of the President's son said the latter had requested that his denial be given to the press.

HELLO EVERYBODY!

Again you find me in the news, My picture looking out at you. Asking you to vote for me So that I can be your nominee. I want to be Sheriff And I want it bad. I would have seen you all if The gas I'd had. Or the tires to put on some old car. To take me near and take me far. The gas you know I could have gotten. Tires also, though they may have been rotten.

I have one boy in the Army Air Corps. Teaching other men's boys to fly. I have another boy just 17 past. That will be in this fall. And time flies fast.

It takes a lot of gas for our boys to learn To fly our planes, the earth to churn. To skim the clouds and tour the skies. To go above where the birds fly. So if I don't get to knock on your door. To shake your hand or give you my greetings. The lack of which should cause me to be defeated. When with black market gas I may have succeeded. THEN, I WOULD RATHER BE DEFEATED.

Top Golf Players Enter The Utah Open July 21-23

SALT LAKE CITY, July 8.—(P)—Three top shooters among professionals left on the golf scene—Byron Nelson, Jug McSpaden and Toney Penna—have entered the Utah open July 21-23, boosted this year to a $2,500 event from $1,000 last year.

The tournament is 72 holes medal play over the Fort Douglas course on the Wasatch "Bench" in the eastern suburbs. It will be preceded by a $500 pro-amateur tournament on the same layout July 20.

Empire City Handicap Won By Stir Up

Equal Jamaica Track Record Of Mile And Three Sixteenths

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK, July 8.—(P)—Bearing out the turf legend that there are horses for courses, Stir Up from Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree stable today won the $50,000 Empire City Handicap at Jamaica as he sped over the mile and three-sixteenths in track record equalling time of 1:56 1/5.

Fifth Victory of Season

In chalking up his fifth victory of the season, four of them over the Jamaica racing Stir Up, the three-year-old gelding finally hung it on Alfred P. Parker's By Jimminy, odds-on-favorite in the field of eight following three successive triumphs at Aqueduct.

By Jimminy, twice conqueror of Stir Up at Aqueduct, could do no better than third, with runner-up honors going to George D. Widener's Lucky Draw. A half-length separated the Greentree gelding and the Widener representative, with another two lengths between Lucky Draw and By Jimminy.

Eddie Aracaro held Stir Up off the early pace, went to the whip a half-mile from home and then hand-rode him through the stretch to match the track record set by Thumbs Up last year. He picked up $38,650 to run his earnings for two seasons to $109,915.

Beaten favorite in the Kenwood Memorial at Jamaica, third in the Preakness and By Jimminy's shadow at Aqueduct, Stir Up was the lightly played second choice of the crowd of 26,546. He returned $10.50, $4.60 and $2.10 across the board. Lucky Draw, also neglected in the wagering, paid $10.80 to place and $2.60 to show.

A $2 shot ticket on By Jimminy was worth $2.10.

Ted Atkinson got By Jimminy away flying but the field had not gone a sixteenth of a mile when Johnny Longden assumed command with Lucky Draw, with Stir Up and Bounding Home, winner of the Belmont stakes, fighting it out for third place.

Stir Up Quick To Respond

Lucky Draw opened up two lengths of daylight at the half-mile post and held it for another quarter-mile with By Jimminy in closest pursuit and Stir Up closing in rapidly. They had covered a mile when Aracaro went to the whip and Stir Up was quick to respond. He stepped past By Jimminy and set sail for Lucky Draw.

Coming out of the back stretch, the Greentree representative stuck his nose in front, lengthened his advantage to a half-length moving into the home stretch and there he stayed in the drive for the wire. Back of the three leaders in order were Smolenski, Autocrat, Bounding Home and Brief Sigh.

Nelson-McSpaden Lead In Tourney

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

MINNEAPOLIS, July 8.—(P)—Scoring a pair of best ball 63's, a total of 20 strokes under par, the consistent Byron Nelson-Jug McSpaden twosome picked up nine points in today's two rounds and jumped into an almost unassailable lead with only 36 holes remaining to be played in the $10,000 Golden Valley team tournament.

Nelson and McSpaden first disposed of L. Ben Hogen-Toney Penna, five up, in the morning session and then punched a four up victory over one of the favorite teams, Sam Byrd and Johnny Revolta, by winning four of the last five holes in a hot streak climaxed by McSpaden's 40-foot eagle putt on the 18th carpet which gave the team a brilliant 30 on the back nine.

These overpowering wins gave the season's two title monopolists a plus 14 count in the scoring system and an edge of five points over their closest rivals, Bill Kaiser and Bob Hamilton.

Nelson and McSpaden will meet the Kaiser-Hamilton team in tomorrow's morning round in what shapes up as the best match of the 126-hole round robin tournament. In the afternoon they will face Harry Cooper and Ellsworth Vines while Kaiser-Hamilton meets Hogen-Penna.

Tied for first place at the end of 54 holes, Kaiser and Hamilton ended today's double round determined to stay on the pace. They fashioned a best ball of 66 to beat Byrd-Revolta 3 to 2 but could bag only a one up win with a 65 over Jimmy Hines and Willie Goggin in the afternoon.

Experience Favors The Nationals

Nineteen Veterans Of Previous All Star Games Are In Lineups

By JACK HAND

PITTSBURGH, July 8.—(P)—Experience favors the National League in the 12th Annual All-Star baseball game to be played here at Forbes Field Tuesday night but the record books give the American a decided 8-3 victory bulge.

Manager Billy Southworth of Ford Frick's circuit has 11 returning veterans who saw service in the 1943 classic while Joe McCarthy can call on eight who had a hand in last year's 5-3 American League triumph in Philadelphia. Included in McCarthy's alumni group is Bobby Doerr of Boston whose 3-run homer told the Philadelphia story.

Almost buried in the enthusiasm over Pittsburgh's first chance to play All-Star host is a joint meeting of the major league scheduled for the morning of July 11. Such important matters as night ball, farm systems and the future of the office of Baseball Commissioner are on the agenda.

Both St. Louis clubs and the Chicago White Sox have asked permission for more after dark games and their wishes probably will be granted. General Manager Jack Zeller of Detroit has a proposal hanging fire that is aimed indirectly at the farm systems. It would revolutionize the method of acquiring minor league talent by channeling all deals through the baseball draft system, but definite action is not expected.

Although the major league agreement setting up the office of Baseball Commissioner that Keneas Mountain Landis has held since 1921 does not expire until Jan. 12, 1946, the American League has asked the majors to consider the problem Tuesday. Commissioner Landis will be 79 years old when his term expires.

The meetings will be held in the comparative privacy of the Schenley hotel but the game is expected to attract approximately 40,000 and contribute over $100,000 to the Sport's Bat and Ball fund for servicemen.

Changes since the original announcement of the All-Star squads have added Jim Tobin of Boston to the National roster in place of George Munger of St. Louis who is slated to be inducted into the service the day of the game. George Case of Washington ran into a wall a week ago and Boston's Pete Fox has been subbed in the American outfield contingent.

Mort Cooper of the Cardinals started the last two games for his league but failed to make the 1944 squad because of early-season arm trouble. Southworth hasn't named his starting choice but he has Backy Walters of Cincinnati who has won 14 to merit selection for the sixth time and Rip Sewell of Pittsburgh, Max Lanier of St. Louis, Ken Raffensberger of the Phils and Nate Andrews, Al Javery and Tobin of Boston to back him up.

McCarthy has three hurlers on his nine-man staff who have won more than ten games in Hank Borowy of New York, Tex Hughson of Boston and Hal Newhouse of Detroit. Dutch Leonard of Washington, who started last year, is back again with Orval Grove of Chicago, Bob Muncie of St. Louis, Dizzy Trout of Detroit, Bobo Newsom of Philadelphia and Rookie Joe Page of New York.

Mel Ott will be the real veteran on the field, playing his 11th game after missing the 1933 opener. For a change the National loop has the home run leader of the majors in Ott and the No. 2 man in Bill Nicholson of Chicago.

It will be the sixth All-Star managerial job for McCarthy and the second for Southworth as the National goes after its first victory since Max West of Boston sealed a 4-0 decision in 1940 with a three-run homer.

With all clubs playing Sunday doubleheaders, the All-Stars will not arrive until late Monday but club officials are pouring into town for informal chats before Tuesday's confab.

The record attendance set by Cleveland at 69,812 in 1935 can't be approached but it's only because the park won't hold any more according to Sam Waters, vice-president and secretary-treasurer of the host club.

Sport Scraps

(By D. KELLY SCRUTON)

WANTED, not only by the farmers and victory gardeners, but also by the fishermen, RAIN. Fishermen who spent the Fourth-of-July holidays on the Lake of the Ozarks report fishing not so good due to the extreme hot weather. However, several reported catching "a few."

The possibility of thunder showers has some of the fishermen getting their equipment ready to take out as soon as possible—that is, if enough rain falls. The rain will tend to enliven the fish and give them a new spirit.

As one fisherman said Saturday, the fish are now down practically three to four feet and deeper in the water and too darn lazy even to take a look at a hook. "As a matter of fact, I doubt if they have enough energy even to take a bite at a hook with a nice fat worm on it."

Well, let's hope the fishermen get their wish, and the farmers and the victory gardeners, too.

I listened intently the other afternoon to Charles J. McEniry recalling one of his boyhood experiences. This one was when "Mc" lost his baseball glove and later found it in the possession of another Irishman just a little bigger than he.

It seems Charlie had a glove with a little extra padding in it. It was so constructed that he knew the glove, and knew no one else had one like it. He missed it one day and looked high and low for his favorite piece of baseball equipment.

Then one day he discovered a schoolmate had it. So, when the boy wasn't looking, he "snatched it." "I gave it to 'Mike' and 'Mike' gave it to 'Sis'," he told us. "Then Sis took the glove home and I kept a keen eye on it ever after. But," he continued, "that's not all the story. You know, that darned Irishman was madder than the devil and for thirteen straight afternoons after school I took a terrific beating from that guy. Boy, the fights we had; just think—thirteen fights, and I lost every one of them."

"You know, I look back on those days and think they were great. I just stood in there and took it; and each time he wore himself out, we just quit fighting," he concluded.

THE Junior American Legion baseball team last week went to Jefferson City and suffered a loss to the Capital City team in the first of a three-game series to see which team goes to the State tournament of the American Legion at St. Louis. But the part that interests me is that the game was played smoothly, and not one squawk was made by either team.

The umpire was so good, in the minds of the two teams, that the local Junior Legion baseball committee has obtained the services of this umpire, who hails from St. Louis, to officiate at the second game between the two teams next Sunday at Liberty Park.

Sedalia fans who desire to see two baseball teams get out on the diamond and play nine innings without a squawk being made, can have their desire rewarded by attending the game next Sunday.

Browns Win 5 To 4 Over Washington

Jakucki Chokes Off A Prospective Rally Of Senators In Ninth

WASHINGTON, July 8.—(P)—Sig Jakucki turned in a six hit performance tonight as the league-leading St. Louis Browns defeated Washington, 5 to 4, before 14,693 fans.

Jakucki choked off a ninth inning Washington rally after the Senators scored a run on a walk, an error and Jake Powell's hit. It was Jakucki's seventh win against three losses.

The Browns scored three runs in the second on hits by Chet Laabs, Mark Christman, Don Guttridge and Milt Byrnes and added a couple of tallies in the seventh on Byrnes' triple, a walk, a Washington error and an infield roller.

The Browns collected 10 blows off Johnny Niggeling, who went the route for Washington. It was Niggeling's third loss against seven wins.

Nats Favored To Win The All-Star Fray

Interesting Highlights Appear In Records Of Eleven Previous

By FRITZ HOWELL

NEW YORK, July 8.—(P)—The National Leagueers are slight favorites to win Tuesday night's All-Star fray at Pittsburgh but Ford Frick's flingers will have to cease serving home run pitches if the senior circuit's supporters are to be satisfied.

Records of the 11 previous star-spangled inter-league encounters reveals that round-tripper provided the payoff in seven of the American loop's eight conquests.

Nats Hit Home Runs

The Nationals, in winning three of the 11, have hit just as many homers as the Americans and used four-ply shots in coping two of their wins. Each league has nine homers for the 11 contests, but the Americans blasted theirs, as a rule, when they did the most good.

At least one homer has been hit in each game with the exception of the 1938 renewal in which the Americans hooted a 4-1 decision to the Nationals with a quartet of misplays.

Here's a quick look at the batting performances:

AMERICAN LEAGUE	G	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	Pct.
11	363	47	93	26	4	9	259
NATIONAL LEAGUE	G	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	Pct.
11	372	35	90	12	4	9	242

Highlights of the previous games, showing how home runs turned the tide:

1933—Babe Ruth's two-run homer in third won for Americans, 4-2.

1934—Frankie Frisch hit homer in first, and Pie Traynor a three-run round-tripper in third for Nationals, but Americans blasted five doubles and two triples for a 9-7 conquest.

1935—Two-run homer in first by Jimmy Fox won the Americans, 4-1.

1936—Ausie Galan's homer in fifth gave Nationals 4 to 3 margin, despite seventh-inning homer by Lou Gehrig for Americans.

1937—Gehrig's two-run homer in third sent Americans on to 8-3 victory.

1938—No homers, Nationals getting three unearned runs on American's four errors to win by 4-1.

1939—Joe DiMaggio's fifth inning homer clinched it for Americans, 3-1.

1940—Max West's three-run homer in first gave Nationals 4-0 victory, only shutout of series.

1941—Ted Williams' three-run homer with two out in ninth gave Americans 7-5 win. Arky Vaughan hit two homers for Nationals.

1942—Lou Boudreau hit second pitch for homer and Rudy York also blasted two-run round-tripper in first as Americans won LISTEN!

COMMENTATOR, narrator, sports expert, author and educator, Bill Slater is recognized as one of radio's most versatile personalities. Outstanding as sports-caster, he'll be heard in that role as he gives a play-by-play account of this year's All-Star Baseball Game—again, heard exclusively in the Heart of America over KMBC.

Bill Slater will be played at Forbes Field, Pittsburgh, on Tuesday night, July 11, and will be aired from 7:55 p. m. on. Proceeds go to the Major Leagues' Baseball Equipment Fund to provide baseball equipment for the armed forces.

JULY 11 HAS THE EAR-MARKS of being an eventful day on KMBC when earlier Tuesday another special feature of note will be heard. Colonel Wentworth, well-known authority in livestock circles, will visit KMBC Service Farms and chat with KMBC's farm director, Phil Evans.

At present Colonel Wentworth is acting as chairman of the Committee of the War-time Swine Industry Council, which is composed of breeders, packers, feed manufacturers and distributors, and several government agencies. Those interested in a lowdown on livestock conditions will want to hear Phil and Colonel Wentworth's important and timely discussion Tuesday, at 12:20 p. m.

THIS SUMMER finds a variation of vacations among KMBC personalities. Caroline Ellis is currently tending the chickens and gardening—making a "Happy Home" out of her nearby farm. Erle Smith, news editor, has again gone west from his regular schedule of newscasts taking with him that collection of colorful (and that's putting it mildly) cowboy shirts. Gertrude Miller is missing from the Dinner-bell Roundup to go in the direction to visit her family. Millie without Sue on the Early Bird Jamboree is impossible—consequently you'll find Millie playing nurse to Sue following a tonsillectomy. Ed Browne, educational director, is ringing wedding bells on his vacation.

HOW THE SEA AND THE PRESS fit into the present day picture of a distinguished arranger and choral director, we're not sure. But we do know that Lyn Murray has rightfully achieved outstanding success in the musical field as conductor, director and composer after starting out life as a sailor and newspaper reporter.

And if you're "from Missouri" (and Kansas, too) just tune in his "To Your Good Health" any Monday, Wednesday and Friday over KMBC at 5:15 p. m. On a Lyn Murray quarter-hour, music flows with the smooth rolling of the sea working up to the climax of a newspaper yarn! Could that be the secret of why this particular KMBC program is so highly regarded by listeners who appreciate good music—well presented?

Wants Girdle Back Even With Bullet Hole

NEW YORK, July 8—(P)—Bullet hole or no bullet hole, Miss Edna Desseau, 40, wants her girdle back.
Attending the sentencing of the man who fired the shot at the girdle—while she was in it—Miss Desseau, now recovered from her wound, appealed to the judge.
"I don't care anything about the shooting; all I want is my girdle back," she declared.
The judge was sorry. Since the undergarment, which probably saved her life, was evidence in the case, he could not order it returned at this time, he said.

Red Cross Corner

It is not too late to make your appointment for the blood bank. Every pint of blood is needed for our wounded soldiers and it is a privilege for a civilian to be able to make this contribution.

Red Cross volunteers from all of the special services will be on duty almost night and day for the five days of the blood bank. If it were not for these volunteers, it would not be possible to bring this service to Sedalia. Won't you help Sedalia keep the excellent record that was established during the last visit of the blood bank?

Miss Agnes Quin, chairman of Surgical Dressings, reports that during the month of June, 139 women working a total of 1009 1/2 hours, made 38,724 dressings. This is an excellent record for hot weather and makes us realize that the women of Sedalia are continuing to do their part in all branches of Red Cross service.

Miss Quin wishes to remind the surgical dressing volunteers who are helping at the blood bank next week that they are to wear a white dress or uniform and white veil while on duty.

Mrs. Harold Dean, chairman of Volunteer Special Services, held the regular meeting of all chairmen at the Red Cross offices Wednesday, July 5, at which time the June reports were given on all Volunteer Services.

The Gray Ladies are continuing the appeal for a high chair for the air base. Many wives with small children have come to the hospital at the air base to visit their husbands and the lack of a high chair has caused great inconvenience.

Jack Lear, Home Service Representative from the Area Office in St. Louis will visit our Red Cross chapter on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Mrs. Herbert Seifert, local chairman of Home Service feels that Mrs. Lear's visit will be of great benefit to our chapter and we are all looking forward to it with a great deal of pleasure.

Auxiliary To Buy War Bond

Arrangements were made to purchase another $100 war bond by the American Legion Auxiliary to Pettis County Post No. 16 at a meeting held Monday night in Parish hall with Mrs. James Franks, auxiliary president, presiding.

Announcement was made of the seventh district meeting of the Legion and Auxiliary to be held in Sedalia at the new armory on Sunday, August 6.

A complete program has been outlined by the district officers with the assistance of local committees. Owing to the shortage of gasoline very few district meetings have been held during the last year, therefore Sedalia is honored by this choice, it was pointed out.

Fun at Bond Rally

Program at Smithton Club

Smithton Home Economics club recently met at the home of Mrs. W. H. Griffin with Mrs. H. S. Ramseyer, Mrs. Jack Kellerman and Mrs. B. B. Ihrig assisting hostesses.

A covered dish luncheon was served at the noon hour.

Mrs. W. E. Lamm had charge of the devotional period which preceded the business session. Original poems were given in answer to roll call.

Reports from various committees were heard, after which Mrs. F. L. Bodenheimer led a discussion on "Child Development." An article, "The Birth of the Red Cross," was read by Mrs. Frank Monsees. Prof. B. B. Ihrig, superintendent of Smithton schools, demonstrated his hobby, a collection of buttons from many countries of the world which he has mounted on cardboard in geometrical designs, and explained the origin, various designs and materials.

The next meeting will be held the fourth Wednesday of July.

In The Service

Cpl. James R. Billings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Billings, of Sedalia, has arrived safely in France, after having been stationed in England for three months, according to word received by his wife, who is making her home in St. Joseph.

The Rev. and Mrs. Dillon, of Smithton, received a letter from their son, who is a corporal overseas, in which he enclosed an article from a paper published at the station hospital overseas where he is assigned. It gave an account of the treatment given some of the Italian wounded, mentioning particularly one man, who was concerned about his two children, who were buried under some debris.

Cpl. Dillon helped lift one child, still alive, from the debris and rush him to a hospital, where he was revived. Mother and father and one child were reunited, but the other child was found dead.

John Charles Gabriel of the U. S. Navy, stationed somewhere in the Southwest Pacific, has been promoted to the rank of seaman first class. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Gabriel of Nelson.

Sharp Break On
The Wheat Market
CHICAGO, July 8.—(AP)—Reaction to yesterday's bullish trade hit the grain market today and wheat futures prices broke sharply. Transactions during the preceding session had sapped much of the buying power, limiting today's demand while hedging sales increased.
Traders believed yesterday's advances were sufficient to discount the bullish news that the War Food Administration had increased from 85 to 90 per cent of parity the wheat loan rate.
Some business also was attributed to reports that prices paid by the Commodity Credit Corporation for wheat would not be affected by the increase in the loan rate. Current CCC purchases are made on the basis of six cents over the old loan rate.
At mid-session there was some buying by commission houses but the market showed no rallying power and the deferred contracts closed at new lows for the day.
At the close wheat was 1 1/4 to 2 1/4
under yesterday's finish, July $1.58 1/2.
Oats were off 1/4 to 1/2, July 77 1/2. Rye was 1/4 to 1/2 lower, July $1.12 1/2. Barley was 1/2 higher to 1 1/2 lower, July $1.26.

Offering Reward
For Son's Return
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smasal, of Spring Fork, are offering a reward of $100 for the return, or information leading to the return, of their son, Joseph (Joe) Smasal, aged 15, who disappeared from his home April 27, 1944. He is five feet, three inches tall and weighs 120 pounds, and has experience in farm work.
The young boy, who was a student at Smith-Cotton high school, started to school one morning and disappeared. Efforts have been made to locate him, but to no avail, and his parents are now offering the reward, hoping it may in some way lead to information as to his whereabouts.

Finest Twenty-Five Dollars
Thomas Treelove, Houstonia, arrested by the police for being intoxicated, was fined $25 in police court several times before, it was explained, when the large fine was assessed.

Two Arbuckle Brothers In War In Italy

Tell Of First View Of Rome, Hope To See Berlin

An interesting letter has been received by Mrs. Fanny Arbuckle, 1614 South Lamine avenue, sent from the division in Italy with which her two sons, Lieut. George W. Arbuckle and Lieut. Richard E. Arbuckle are serving. Both young men were carrier boys employed by the Sedalia Democrat Company, while in school here. They left Sedalia with the National Guard, in 1940, and served under Capt. H. O. Berry, of this city, until they were sent overseas. The letter follows:

"Now that information concerning our division has been given out for print, I am sure you can keep tab on me as we penetrate deeper into Nazi-held territory and on to Berlin."

"We are engaged in the Italian offensive that crumbled the Gustav and Hitler lines from the Tyrrhenian Sea, and had the pleasure of pushing on to Rome, and being the first Allied troops there. From our initial point up to Rome, one just can't describe the atrocities of war, no matter how much one reads or sees of it. The destruction of towns, villages, and cities to absolute rubble, and the stench of decaying animals and human bodies is almost more than one can bear."

"I make particular reference to the towns we occupied on our march to Rome. From Minturno, we pushed northeast to Scauri, Formia, Gaeta, Itri, Fondi, Terracina, Sabaudia, through the flooded Pontine Marshes to Priverno, Cori, Velletri, Rocca Priora, and thence to Rome."

"The Eternal City has been spared the ravages of war, and its sanctity preserved. Our entrance to this beautiful city not only liberated it from the Germans, but also gave the American soldiers their first look at a beautiful European city. Smart looking shops, wines, liquors, and beautiful signorinas. The ovation accorded the victorious troops is a tale one can always tell and never forget. Thousands lined the streets to greet the Liberators, throwing flowers in their paths; women wept with joy, children clapped their hands with glee, flags of the Allies bedecked many of the buildings, civilian parades flourished here and there, and all the stores and shops closed for a real 'Roman holiday.'"

"With the fall of the first European capital to the Allies, we are again on the move, and I hope that I may soon write another such epistle—this one from Berlin."

Negro On GOP Publicity Group

NEW YORK, July 8.—(AP)—The appointment of Dr. C. B. Powell, a Negro, and publisher of the New York Amsterdam News, as assistant director of publicity of the Republican National Committee, was announced late Friday.

Herbert B. Brownell, Jr., National Chairman of the party, in making the announcement, said Dr. Powell would assume his duties immediately. In 1936 and 1940 he said Powell was a director of publicity for the Democratic party.

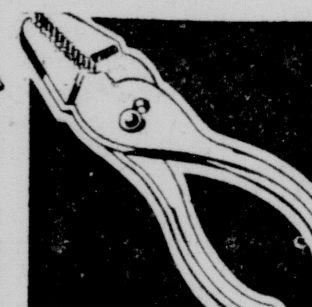

In a prepared statement made after the announcement of the appointment, Chairman Brownell said:

"It is not the practice of the Republican party to encourage or tolerate discrimination or segregation because of race, creed or color. We believe with all true Americans that Jim Crowism is something repugnant to our way of life."
